Don't be intimidated by her size! This little 5 foot dynamo simply explodes with energy and takes up the entire stage during her presentations. She has never seen herself as small and somehow manages to look each and every attendee in the eye. Brenda's positive attitude has not only allowed her to succeed in business but also in overcoming some pretty incredible obstacles in her life. Her most recent successful battle against a very rare and serious cancer, has energized her to reach even greater heights. She now combines the many lessons she has learned to inspire, motivate, and challenge others to believe that anything is possible if they just have the right attitude.
